

For the following situation what do you expect the direction of the A-field to be like at the observer?

